

The below terms and conditions are automatically accepted by viewer when taking access our elfo ag homepage.

elfo ag discloses on it's website also general information about the company and the products. This informationen is meant as an informal orientation guide only and is mainly addressed to viewers generally interested in elfo ag services.

By taking access to the elfo homepage, you accept:

- that the rightness, completeness, confidentiality and secrecy of the data in the internet is not confirmed and the information is therefore to be treated as without guarantee;
- that elfo ag can not assume any liability in case of third persons (despite safety measures) changing the data you entered or changing, reading, transferring, using or exploiting the information stipulated by elfo ag on it's homepage (including downloads);
- that elfo ag assumes no liability in case of faulty performance of the internet, imported date (viruses, etc.) as well implications due to links to other websites;
- that the transfer of personal data through the internet to the elfo ag always takes place at your own risk;
- that elfo ag assumes under no circumstances any liability for losses, direct or indirect damages or secondary damages (complications) generating out of the access or use services or information stipulated on the elfo website and/or links to other websites.

Sachseln, 10. 02.2017

Christoph Lüdi
CFO
Member of management

Thomas Lang
Senior Sales Manager